

L'ANNÉE PHILOLOGIQUE (APh)

The reference bibliography for academic publications relating to Ancient Greek and Roman Civilization

New Interface, incl. Citation Details on the Record Page

The screenshot displays the APh interface. On the left, a sidebar contains a 'Hitlist of a bibliographical search' with facets for Centuries, Discipline, Ancient author and text, Author, editor, etc., Language of Work, and Year of publication. The main area shows '4 hits' for a search of 'sexualité' AND 'Foucault'. The first result is 'Histoire de la sexualité. 4, Les aveux de la chair' by Michel Foucault & Frédéric Gros, with 19 citations. A circular callout highlights the citation details on the right-hand side of the record page, showing a list of 19 citations and a button to 'Get in touch to show more'. A red arrow points from the text box to the citation details.

How is APh useful for researchers, teachers, students?

L'Année Philologique (APh) is the authoritative international index for Classical Studies, trusted by scholars worldwide for nearly a century. It provides detailed bibliographic information on books, journal articles, edited volumes, and book chapters published from 1924 to the present day.

APh enables you to quickly and easily discover what has been written on specific authors, texts, subjects, places, and historical periods. It is particularly valuable for classicists seeking to deepen their understanding of the ancient world, identify gaps in the literature, or refine the scope of ongoing research projects.

L'Année Philologique covers all aspects of Greco-Roman civilization—from literature, linguistics, and philosophy to archaeology, epigraphy, and reception studies. Its global coverage ensures that you have access to scholarship published in multiple languages and from diverse academic traditions.

Reflections on using APh

“ L'Année Philologique is arguably the most reliable and comprehensive bibliographical resource on every field of Classics. Combining the advantages of digital humanities and the accuracy of a hand-curated catalogue, L'APh is a must for any student or scholar who wishes to produce a serious research on the ancient Greek and Roman world. ”

Alberto J. Quiroga Puertas, Universidad de Granada ”

Perspecti will be a database capturing the unique publication fingerprint of research in the humanities, to offer reliable perspectives for researchers, librarians, institutions, governments, and funders. It aims to support the humanities and foster its bibliodiversity.
